

Career Pathing & Progression for Women: Strategies for Advancement, Equity, & Growth

Jennifer Willey

Wet Cement

Embarking on the journey of professional growth presents unique challenges for women, often heightened by structural inequities, biases, and some of their own internal mindset barriers. This workshop is dedicated to equipping you with robust, actionable strategies to navigate both internal and external challenges and propel your career forward with intent and agency. Together, we will create a dialogue focused on the experiences of women in the workplace, sharing success stories and tactics that both women and allies can employ.

About Jennifer

As Founder of Wet Cement, Jenn is proud to be one of only 50 U.S. CEOs leading a Disability-Owned and Woman-Owned certified business. She's built a new kind of mission-driven business empowering others to achieve their potential by developing the 'Fearless Fundamentals' – Confidence, Communication, Connections, Control, and Culture. She created Wet Cement's gender equality practice, Advance Women at Work™ to design empowerment programs for women and modern leadership training for male executives.
